Council Pleased as 90 per cent of Current Taxes Are Paid

Coleman town council expressed great pleasure at its meeting this week when Secretary-treasurer Trevor Collister informed the members that with the advancing of the 10 per cent discount deadline for taxes to April 30th, ratepayers appeared to have accepted this change as 90 per cent of the tax levy has been paid as compared with last year's taxes when only 80 per cent of the taxes had been paid at the deadline date of August 30.

The millrate in Coleman this year was set at 60 mills with a gross net of 54 mills. The secretary's financial statement to May 15th showed that all departments were operating well within their budgets.

Joe Bisgun, a Coleman plumber, was appointed by council to the position of gas operator for the town of Coleman's Natural Gas Company. There were 78 applications for this position.

Council will advertise for additional help to work on the town crews as general utility men to replace two employees who have gained employment elsewhere.

Council let a gravel crushing contract to Kenway Contractors of Lethbridge, to crush 5,000 cubic yards in two sizes for general maintenance work.

The town police have obtained the radar equipment purchased jointly by the Pass towns several years ago for alternate use by the town police departments.

The School Supplementary requisition of $10,485 was accepted by council. This amount showed a $2,000 increase over last year's figure.

Administrator Trevor Collister was granted permission by council to attend a refresher course in Banff to be held in mid-June.

It was suggested that any councillor who could avail themselves for the course, should attend.

Signs have been ordered to erect in the town park, forbidding vehicles and horses from going on the lawns in the park. Littering in the park area will also be forbidden.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Nettie Kinmer, Reg.N., and a pot-luck supper will be served.

Many of Dr. Stangeland's recitals have been shared with his wife, Elizabeth Stangeland, who is a singer of extensive training and experience.

Look Before You Leap

Red Cross Water Safety Week
June 6 to 12, 1965

Most of us know the saying "look before you leap". However, like many good pieces of advice, this one has become merely a saying and its implications are too often overlooked. Even in its literal sense it is frequently ignored.

According to Red Cross drowning statistics, diving into water is an activity which causes relatively few drownings in Canada. But its toll in serious injuries is frightening. Every year dozens of Canadians injure themselves seriously by making faulty dives into the water.

Some dive into water that's too shallow, some injure themselves by attempting stunt diving, others fail to pull out of a dive in time and still others crash into swimmers already in the water. In too many cases, the result is a broken neck. If these victims had looked before they leapt, they would have avoided injury.

The tragedy of these diving accidents is that most of the victims are under 30 years of age. They are in their prime. Such an accident snuffs out any future they might have had, leaving nothing for them but a life of misery in a wheel chair.

June 6 to 12 is Red Cross Water Safety Week in Canada. It's a good time for everyone to heed the advice of the Red Cross to be water-wise and "look before you leap".

John Ferco Passes Away Suddenly

John Ferco, retired miner, died suddenly at his residence Saturday, May 22nd.

Mr. Ferco, age 75 years, was born in Nizna Province of Orava, Czechoslovakia, April 12th, 1890.

He came to Canada in 1920, settling in Michel, B. C., where he worked for two years before coming to Coleman to reside.

Here he worked in the McGillivray Mine until his retirement in 1955. He was a member of the Coleman Local UMW, the Catholic Faith, and served in the First War in the Old Country.

He married the former Mary Tremayne of Port William, Ont., in Czechoslovakia in 1917.

He was predeceased by two brothers and two sisters in Czechoslovakia and by one son Joe in Coleman in 1940.

He is survived by his wife Mary of Coleman; one daughter, Mrs. E. (Mary) Zuffa in Czechoslovakia; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Prayers were said at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, May 25, in Fantin's Hillside Chapel.

Requiem High Mass was celebrated from the Holy Ghost Catholic Church at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, May 26th by Rev. W. Krewski. Interment followed in the Coleman Catholic cemetery. Fantin's Hillside Chapel was in charge.

Elks and Lions Sponsor Little League Baseball

The Coleman Elks and Lions Clubs have agreed to sponsor Little League Baseball this summer.

The Coleman youngsters have been under strenuous training for the past few weeks in order to be in shape for their games which are scheduled to start this week.

CNPH Auxiliary Report Activities

Committee reports of interest were heard at the May meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital.

The president, Mrs. A. Mickels, had visited the hospital on Easter Sunday and brought gifts to the 43 patients there on behalf of the Auxiliary.

On May 10th Mrs. Doris Turner and Mrs. Gladys Bannan also visited the hospital and gave a message to each of the 24 lady patients in observance of Mother's Day.

Applications for the Ladies' Auxiliary Scholarship are being received, forms for these being available at both Isabelle Selton and Horace Allen high schools.

Other reports showed the members have been busy with numerous sewing sessions and have received a beautiful assortment of hand-made goods for sale, as well as a supply of Birth and Medical Registry Books for gift-giving.

Cause of T. V. Interference Found

Wilful damage to high power line insulators done by .22 rifles in the hands of vandals has been traced to be the cause of the extremely bad radio and television in the Crows Nest Pass during the past month.

A radio inspector from the Department of Transport has been working in the Pass for the past week checking all sources of possible interference. The inspector visited the Pass after a number of citizens reported the trouble to the Department of Transport in both Calgary and Edmonton.

Reports show that in one area there was only one intact insulator or left out of 14 with the damaged ones appearing to have been hit with rifle bullets.

This damage, besides being very expensive to the two power companies serving the area, creates a very aggravating nuisance to television viewers and persons listening to radios.

Besides costing some $30.00 each for the insulators, crews of men have to be brought to the area to repair the damage which adds to this unnecessary cost. The matter is one of grave concern to the power companies who do all possible to keep their equipment in good repair so that their lines do not create any unnecessary interference in the district.

It is felt by those concerned that parents of young boys who have rifles, should take immediate steps to point out to these vandals the grief and expense they are causing others besides the hazards they are creating.

Power companies have been very busy the past few days doing all possible to repair the damage causing the interference.

K. of C.'s Pay Tribute To Rev. S. Henke

St. Joseph the Worker Council, Knights of Columbus, held the May meeting in Coleman parish on May 17th. Plans were made for a Clergy Night on June 6th to honor the pastors from Fernie, B. C., to Pincher Creek, Alberta. A special communion breakfast will be held in Bellevue on June 20th, and the early summer will see a cavalcade of cars from the Crows Nest Pass, Michel, Fernie and Cranbrook, with members and their families to visit the Council at Kailispell, Man.

New officers will be elected in June and Grand Knight John Binda of Coleman, appointed a nominating committee consisting of John Albizzati, Blairmore, as chairman, with Morden McNeil, Hillcrest, and Valentina Catonio of Blairmore.

Lecturer Father Tessier, Blairmore, gave a short talk on "Wills" from the viewpoint of the testator. He stressed the troubles encountered by the families of people who die without wills, and of those whose wills are old and out-of-date. Some very interesting examples of old wills were given.

The Council made a presentation of a small gift to Father S. Henke, Bellevue, who has been Chaplain of the Council since its inception. Father Henke is being transferred to the parish at Brooks, Alberta, effective June 1st. Father Andrews of Vauxhall, will succeed him at Bellevue.

Father Tessier paid tribute to Father Henke, stressing that he had been of the utmost assistance in getting the Council organized, and he had suggested the name which was finally selected as that of the Council. Father Henke in his reply urged his hearers to remember to practice Charity and Fraternity to all in the Unity of the Council and the Order.

Eskimo Children Tour Phone Toll Office

A look at a modern telephone toll office and the intricate equipment which makes it work was afforded ten Eskimo children from Tuktoyaktuk recently.

The guided tour, provided by Alberta Government Telephones, introduced the students, many of whom had not seen a telephone before, to one of the modern, take-order-granted facilities most Canadians enjoy.

The students are in Edmonton on a 20-day visit from the far north centre, sponsored by their own community, Northern Transportation, Pacific Western Airlines and Canadian Coachways.

At the AGT Toll office they had the opportunity of seeing long distance telephone calls from all parts of the world being processed and directed. In addition they were taken through the equipment rooms where the complicated electronic devices which make modern telephony possible, were operating.

Alberta Government Telephones Leading Operator, Lillian Lundgren helps a visiting Eskimo student, Agnes Ettagiak, place a call from the AGT Toll Office in Edmonton, while other members of the 18-student Tuktoyaktuk group watch approvingly.

Report From Parliament Hill

(Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.)

About a year ago the Parliamentary Press Gallery was busily engaged in running a "hate Parliament campaign" and, among other things, kept insisting that Parliament was wasting its time, doing nothing except squabbling and, in short, was producing the most unproductive session of Parliament in history. In the last couple of months this same Press Gallery has been endeavoring to point out to the public what a really productive session this last session of Parliament actually was and how much valuable legislation had been passed.

Since the new session of Parliament commenced a couple of weeks ago, the Parliament Press Gallery has again started its 'anti-Parliament' campaign—this time the theme being that the MP's are absent and shirking their duties and in particular that all Opposition MP's are being hypocritical about trying to overthrow the government. It is political propaganda to say that opposition absenteeism has kept the present government in power. On the contrary, the voting of the splinter parties have kept the government in power.

They often talk in favor of a supply motion and then vote just the opposite. If there were only two parties, this bad practice would never happen. No party ever has 100 per cent attendance and studies show that all parties have about the same percentage of absenteeism. I think a few further facts might be in order.

First of all, MP's are entitled to absent themselves from Parliament for 21 days out of every session of Parliament (after that they are fined $100 for each day's absence). The reason for this (and it has always been so) is that MP's must take some time to look after their own private business, and attend family graduations, weddings, anniversaries, etc. As a rule very few members use more than four or five days out of the 21 allowed during a session. The most I have ever used is four days during one session.

In addition, any MP frequently has to return to his constituency in order to receive representations from farm groups, labor groups, attend hearings, etc., with respect to matters of public policy. This is particularly true in the case of MP's who live great distance from Ottawa. As a matter of fact, the Rules of Parliament do not consider that an MP is absent from Parliament if his absence from Ottawa is concerned with public affairs or parliamentary duties.

Likewise, illness (which, of course, is unavoidable) is not considered to be absenteeism. These facts seem to be frequently forgotten when sensational news stories are written up by some members of the Press Gallery.

I am not trying to suggest that Parliament and the MP's who compose it are perfect and should not be criticised. But I do think that criticism should be accurate and justified. If the Press Gallery directed its criticisms at the length of time used up during the daily question period, and also at the quality of many of these questions (not to mention the many spurious "points of privilege") it would have more genuine grounds for criticism and complaint.

Presenting Story Of Forest Conservation

Thousands of school pupils in the forested areas of Alberta are becoming more familiar with their outdoor heritage through the Conservation Classes presented in hundreds of schools by the Alberta Forestry Association.

These programs, combining of films and talks are designed to bring the world of nature into the classroom, to illustrate how soil, water and forest form the foundation for a living community, with all growing things depending on their environment and one another for their existence.

This world of nature has great fascination for young people and Mr. Greg Stevens, Association representative, meets with high audience interest and enthusiasm. Teachers use the program as a basis for further classroom studies, supplemented by printed material left at each school for this purpose.

However, these lessons go much further than just a story — they stress the part these renewable resources play in our lives and the need to look after them. The co-operation of all young people is sought in helping, through knowledge and care, to make sure we always enjoy these natural benefits.

Audiences are told how the forest provides over 6,000 items used in our daily lives and their help enlisted in protecting these forests, particularly from fire.

The full enjoyment of the outdoors can be spoiled by not only fire but by making campgrounds and other such areas unsightly and dangerous by careless discarding of refuse, garbage, broken glass, etc. Today in Alberta over 50,000 young people have promised to help keep Alberta green and clean, by doing their part to prevent forest fires and keep our forest areas clean.

Older people are not neglected and regular evening programs are available for them. All age groups are showing increasing interest in promoting conservation and in taking a personal responsibility in looking after the renewable resources. It will add up to making sure the wilderness beauty of Alberta is maintained and improved, not just for a few years, but for all the future.

VIEWING HIGHLIGHTS FOR THE COMING WEEK

JUNE 5 - 11

The new conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, Siegi Ozawa, who takes over his duties in the fall for a three-year period, is a short, lean, intense, 29-year-old Japanese who looks like a shyly unassuming teen-ager. But he is something of a boy wonder whose work on the podium is invariably described with adjectives such as electrifying, dynamic, breath-taking and dramatic.

In the second of "Four Concerts in Praise of Great Performers" CBC-TV's Festival will present an intimate study of Ozawa, and the Toronto Symphony Orchestra will be seen in rehearsal and in a performance of Symphonie Fantastique by Berlioz, a work which won him high praise in March when he made his British conducting debut with the London Symphony Orchestra.

The TV sports agenda for the week-end includes major league baseball and the Belmont Stakes horse race.

The ball game should be a dandy—pitting the Los Angeles Dodgers' great pitching against the Milwaukee Braves' great hitting. —The game, from County Stadium in Milwaukee, starts at 1:00 p.m. at Manitoba, 12 noon in Saskatchewan and 11 a.m. in Alberta.

The third jewel in U.S. racing's Triple Crown, the Belmont Stakes, will be run over a distance of one and a half miles, at Aqueduct race track in New York. This 97th running of the Belmont has a $125,000 purse attached. In addition to the live telecast of the Belmont, the telecast will present video-taped re-runs of the Kentucky Derby won by Lucky Debonair and the Preakness, won by Tom Rolfe. Telecast time is 4 p.m. in Manitoba, 3 p.m. in Saskatchewan and 2 p.m. in Alberta.

The incomparable Danny Kaye stars with Pier Angeli in the musical comedy "Merry Andrew" on Great Movies Saturday at 8:30 p.m. Kaye is a teacher in an English rural boys' school who becomes involved with a travelling circus and falls in love with Pier Angeli, the beautiful trapeze artist.

The Gemini rocket, to be sent into orbit Thursday morning, June 3rd, is expected to make its descent some time Monday, June 7th after orbiting the earth for a record four days. When the space craft descends its return and pick up will be televised "live", interrupting whatever regularly scheduled programming the network is carrying at the time.

According to Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster, if you asked 10 comedians who their favorite comic was, nine of them would say "George Burns". Show people hold Burns in very high regard.

Johnny and Frank seem to find out why Burns is so highly thought of by his fellow funny men. Monday, June 7th at 8 p.m. on the last of their "affectionate look" segments on Show of the Week.

George Burns has had a long and distinguished career in show business beginning 62 years ago as a seven year old in the Pee Wee Quartet, ranging through a roller-skating act, a comic song and dance partnership and 40 years of the great Burns and Allen team with his wife Grace.

More than 1,500,000 visitors a year see the Liberty Bell.

Sisters Married At Double Wedding

A very pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. B. H. Thackeray of Lacombe United Church on Saturday, when the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Crippen, Sr., of Coleman, were married.

Barbara Jean exchanged vows with William Alfred, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Rye, Blackfalds.

Elene Mary exchanged vows with Ronald Leonal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Briault, also of Blackfalds.

To the strains of the Wedding March, played by the organist, Elene Mary entered the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Gary Swann of Red Deer. She wore a white floor-length taffeta gown over hooped skirts. The skirt was caught up with large taffeta bows on a band of sequins. The bodice featured a sweetheart neckline bordered with sequins and long lily-point sleeves.

Her shoulder-length veil cascaded from a silver rhinestone studded tiara. Her bouquet was a sheaf of red roses with white satin streamers. She wore white slippers.

"Where do we go from here, Mr. Mayor?"

Alberta's phenomenal expansion has led to the development of new townships, has created planning problems for present towns, villages and municipalities. Intelligent long range planning to meet this expansion requires help of trained technicians. Because few of the small communities are in a position to retain their own planning staff, assistance is supplied either through the Planning Branch of the Department of Municipal Affairs or through the Regional Planning Commission.

The Department of Municipal Affairs encourages the orderly development of municipalities through the formation of Regional Planning Commissions, and pays 50% of the operating costs of these commissions. Technical assistance is provided on request to any municipality for problems ranging from road intersections to zoning by-laws. In 1964 all Alberta Regional Planning Commissions received 2,000 applications for sub-divisions, while the Provincial Planning office received over 1,000 applications.
